

Which Side Are You On, Revisited

New Words; Mark Ross, Bruce Murdoch & Etan Ben-Ami

There's a place in New York City where the money goes around
For the 99ers in the street - None of that will trickle down

Chorus: Which side are you on? (2X)

We came here for liberty to change a damned disgrace
Walked across the Brooklyn Bridge, got night sticks in our face

The politicos and the bankers are having too much fun
We're out here on the street today to put them on the run

Oh, people can you stand it, tell me if you can
Will we fight here on the street or beg with cap in hand?

Tell them up in Washington, let's hear it 'cross the land
We've been too long divided - United we'll make our stand

It's called the New York Stock Exchange, they all work out of sight

We send our deepest thanks to you, we know you will not fall
They cops could take us one by one, but they sure can't take us all

You say you love this country, I hope to God that's true,
But do you think those politicians give a damn 'bout you.

Come all you brave New Yorkers, I've a truth that I must tell,
If you don't fight for this country, you'll watch it go to hell.
